Press Release

Coffee with a Cop in Fort Atkinson

Fort Atkinson, WI: A new monthly program in Fort Atkinson is all about encouraging teamwork and building trust between citizens and members of their local police force.

The Fort Atkinson Police Department is asking community members to share a cup of coffee with the agency's police chief and Community Policing Team next month. The event will offer an opportunity to talk one on one with officers. An opportunity to talk openly about concerns or problems and to identify solutions as a team.

The department's first "Coffee with a Cop" meeting will be held Saturday, March 7, at the Fort Corner Cafe. Chief Adrian Bump and the Community Policing Team will be at the cafe from 11:00a-3:00pm.

"No agenda or speeches, just a chance to ask questions, voice concerns and get to know the officers in your community!" stated Chief Adrian Bump. "Our agency will better serve this community if we can better understand the needs and concerns of those people we serve."

The Community Policing Team will also have resources and literature related to community policing and safety initiatives available. They will be available for questions and comments on the community focused initiatives of the agency.

The department hopes to host similar events throughout the year at different locations in the city. Different officers within the agency will participate each time allowing the community to meet and interact with their community officers.
